It is estimated that South Carolina is currently home to 400,000 veterans; the Victory House is home to some 220 veterans. The House consists of five pavilions, each named in honor of a South Carolinian who has made great personal sacrifice furthering the cause of freedom around the world.

Boatswain's Mate First Class James Elliot Williams Pavilion – Medal of Honor recipient, U.S. Navy, Vietnam, deceased.

Lance Corporal Rodney J. Williams Pavilion – U.S. Marine Corps, Beirut, deceased.

Captain John H. Truluck Pavilion – U.S. Air Force, World War II, Ace, living.

Staff Sergeant Eugene A. Lyons Pavilion – U.S. Army, World War II, deceased.

Master Sergeant Francis S. Currey Pavilion – Medal of Honor recipient, U.S. Army, World War II, living.
